

Day 4
March 28

Love As
Action
Is Right Conduct

BE DIVINE...SEE AND SERVE DIVINITY

INVOKE, EVOKE, INVOLVE, EVOLVE

FROM EXTERNAL TEMPORARY TO INTERNAL INFINITY

Man has to slay the six-fold beast of inner enemies (arishadvarga) that lead him on to disaster: lust, anger, greed, delusion, pride, and hate. Thus only can dharma be restored.

- Baba

- Every bit in the Universe is following its dharma.
- Are we, as humans placed on the top rung of the ladder of creation so that we may be caretakers for all that lives and breathes, following our dharma and participating in right conduct?
- Mother Nature's bounty is there for every being equitably.
- The basis for all this is Love, selfless and true. Love makes every bit in Nature be committed to its dharma. And, the resulting sustenance is welcomed by all!
- Each and every act based on loving compassion, in however minute a manner, is never wasted. Often, people simply need a kind and listening ear. Actions based on love and care help raise confidence, boost the morale, reinstall faith, warm the heart and to a great extent assist the healing process of any individual, be it through mental traumas, physical ailments, emotional upheavals, or any type of turbulent weather that is being faced. It also lifts and heals the person giving the support!
- Our Love can provide the most essential balm, nourishment, succour and relief for a suffering soul just as Bhagawan's Love does for our core essence.

- Bhagawan states that Dharma is the foundation for the welfare of humanity. He also goes on to illumine that the blazing fire of wisdom (jnana), which convinces us that all this is Brahman (Sarvam Khalvidam Brahman), will consume into ashes all traces of our egotism and worldly attachment. He further exhorts that we must be intoxicated with the nectar of union with Brahman; that is the ultimate goal of dharma and of action (karma) inspired by dharma.
- This Sadhana Aradhana period is dedicated to our Beloved Lord, whose every little action knew its origin in Love.
- Wouldn't our worship be glowingly appropriate if our actions too were rooted in love?
- Then, what are we waiting for?

Today, let us refreshingly assign ourselves to our dharma towards ourselves as well as all and -
