

Day 20
April 13

Narayana
Seva...
Love And Serve Narayana

BE DIVINE...SEE AND SERVE DIVINITY

INVOKE, EVOKE, INVOLVE, EVOLVE

FROM EXTERNAL TEMPORARY TO INTERNAL INFINITY

- On this day, shall we proceed forth to deepen our understanding of 'Narayana Seva'?
- Can it be restricted to only mean - preparing nourishing food with love and serving it wholeheartedly to those in need...aware that we are serving the Narayana - the Supreme Being...that dwells within them all?
- Doesn't it have a more expansive and deeper link? Doesn't it also imply an association with the Narayana within each being...within each of us too?
- Isn't Narayana Seva an intuitive realisation of another being's crucial need and consequently, spontaneously, rising above all else to fulfil that urgent need?
- Isn't it a ceaseless giving that arises from an inner prompt which has no expectation of any reward or a thought which says – I am doing something great and good?
- Every bit in Nature is indulging in this seva most naturally. From the revitalizing rays of Lord Surya to the quenching waters of Rivers to the benediction of Vayu Deva that grants each being breath and life force energy to the wondrous bounty of Mother Earth that is readily available to all.
- Trees do not choose who should have access to their shade or fruits nor do flowers show any preference as regards their fragrance and nectar...nor are the stars selective - they twinkle joyously for all...nor does Lord Surya show any kind of bias - its radiance is there for everyone.

- A ceaseless, limitless, unrestricted flow available for all, a right royal Narayana Seva! Narayana serving Narayana...with all there is...available to all – birds, animals, humans...no distinction or bias of caste, creed, gender or species.
- Today, taking an inspiring cue from Mother Nature, let us undertake and participate in an expansive and Universal Narayana Seva...commencing by offering deep love and respect to the Narayana within us...our Sathya, our Truth.
